Tanu is a bright girl, and currently, she is studying in class VII at a Public School. However, four years before she was passing through a very struggling phase when her mother had passed away, her father is an alcoholic and unemployed, so after her mother's sudden death, she had to face emotional trauma and financial difficulties at home.

Because of all such circumstances, Tanu had to make the sacrifice with her studies, and she was the dropout from the school for two academic years. Tanu's dream for continuing her studies become true when Indian Dreams Foundation spotted her zeal and committed to supporting her. Through the support of the Indian Dreams Foundation, Tanu was able to enrol back to school and, now she has been a regular student for the past two years. She is a shy, reserved and a focused girl, Tanu prefers academics over sports and other activities taking place in school. Apart from sponsoring all her academics expenses, IDF has been supporting her in honing her vocational and artistic skills, through different workshops and activities on a regular basis. During the summer vacations every year, Tanu actively participates in all summer workshops related to various forms of art and handicrafts, health and hygiene awareness, self-defence classes. Now, she is delighted with her studies and become role model for her siblings, and she is grateful to Indian Dreams Foundation for all the support and motivation.
